

URGE FARMERS REGISTER FOR HARVEST NEED

Labor Situation Discussed By Major Bury and W. Smitten

Farmers, requiring harvest help, are urged to register with the Government Employment Bureau in Edmonton of their needs at the earliest possible moment in order that there may be a minimum of confusion during the busy rush of the harvesting commences.

This was the statement issued yesterday following a conference between Major Bury, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, and W. Smitten, commissioner of labor for the provincial government.

Local Shortage Heard

In order that local labor may have first chance of employment in the harvest, it is recommended that all farmers here to fill full particularities of the men available for work, and to make application to Major Bury for co-operation in getting the maximum number of men making an appeal to all citizens who desire harvest work to register with the employment offices.

It is expected that 1,000 harvesters will be required in the province to Alberians and of this number it is expected that 1,000 can be found locally.

Cutting will be general from the 21st of August until harvest reaches the prairie before Aug. 25. Farmers are advised to take full advantage of the situation in seeking employment. In addition, the government has made arrangements for work across the East.

Major Bury said today:

"The situation is serious, but we must not touch the prairie before Aug. 25. Farmers are advised to take full advantage of the situation in seeking employment. In addition, the government has made arrangements for work across the East."

Infantile Paralysis Symptoms Described by Health Officer

No New Cases Reported Since Tuesday, But Many Parents Worry—Hospital Treatment Advised

While no new cases have been reported to the Health Department, numerous calls have been received asking for a description of the symptoms of infantile paralysis. Dr. T. H. Whitehead has asked the Board to publish the following symptoms of this disease:

"Involuntary spasms of the muscles, particularly in the early stages.

"The majority of cases occur in young children, though young adults may be attacked.

"The spasms, which cannot be sudden, nervous or weakness of some arm or leg. Before this occurs, however, there are usually stiffness, drawfulness or heaviness, fever, stiffness of the neck or back, general tenderness on handling, twitches and jerks and stiffness of the joints.

"If any of these symptoms appear the patient should be kept quiet, given a light diet, and a physician should be consulted without delay. Hospital treatment and careful observation and isolation continued until it is determined whether or not one of infantile paralysis.

"In the case of infantile paralysis, treatment in hospital is advised.

"While the disease is not nearly as infectious as most communicable diseases, it is nevertheless required that it be reported and quarantine established at once, unless the patient is removed to the hospital.

Sacco's Appetite Stirring But Is Cured by Prison Physicians

Early Decision Expected by Massachusetts Supreme Court

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 17.—Since this time from the date of their arrest, the condemned men, Sacco and Vanzetti, have awaited the deliberations of the supreme court, which will decide whether there remains any hope of reprieve.

There has been no indication how soon the decision of the court will be given, but in view of the short time available, it is generally expected that the justices would adjourn and motions never be heard.

The court has under consideration the question of the propriety of several exceptions to Justice Sanderson's ruling of non-jurisdiction, appealed from Judge Thayer's ruling of no jurisdiction by the superior court, which held that the accused failed to stay or revoke their original plea of guilty to the charge of murder in a trial of the condemned men for a fatal trial.

The defense has argued that the condemned men are innocent, stirring and is cured only by the caution of the Justice McLaughlin, prison physician.

SAM COLEMAN TO BE DEPORTED

SAM COLEMAN, former automobile chauffeur serving one year imprisonment at the Fort Saskatchewan penitentiary, was deported yesterday to the United States.

Mr. J. W. White, Star Line Baltic arrived Monday (Captain

W. M. McLean) carrying a wireless message while at sea from the lighthousekeeper.

Coleman, who was serving a sentence of 12 months for an important letter.

Thinking it must be a mistake, he sent a cable to Capt. Sammons to the Baltic several miles off the coast of Norway, telling him to stop the lighthouse. A bucket was let down over the side and the lighthouse keeper took the letter and solemnly dropped his letter into the water.

When "obliged" to think, Coleman floated up to the deck, took off his shirt and washed his hands.

"It's my monthly report to the lighthouse keeper," he said. "I do two days. I wouldn't like to be late."

As far as the great line was permitted to go on about his little bit of work, he can't imagine any other news, and the definition of the word "important." The letter was two minutes apart from the Baltic docked.

Surprised through city streets by Constable Munro operating a police motor cycle, Coleman was taken into custody.

He was apprehended at 10:45 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, and charged with having a wireless message while at sea from the lighthousekeeper.

When he appeared before Magistrate Frank, he was asked if he had any statement to make, and he responded that he thought the cable was sent to the wrong place.

"Much obliged," he thanked.

The City Health Department that morning put the medical Department in touch with the University when a phone message was received from the lighthousekeeper, who stated he could officials with supposed knowledge of the disease free from any hint of the disease.

"Much obliged," he thanked again.

GUESTED THE BEDS?

Peking announces that the army of General Chiang Kai-Shek, "generalissime of the Nationalist forces," has been won over in a battle with the Reds.

In the minds of world the important part of the despatch is the intimation that General Chiang Kai-Shek has got the upper hand in the fight for control of the Canton faction.

What last may considerable value of interesting news came out of China was with the return of General Chiang Kai-Shek, who had been sent to the south.

General Chiang Kai-Shek was holding the fort at Nanking, and that the former had instructed a new generalissimo to start military operations against the intransigent Shieh.

A few days ago General Chiang Kai-Shek had been captured by the southerners from Hankow, while General Shieh was holding the fort at Nanking, and that the former had instructed a new generalissimo to start military operations against the intransigent Shieh.

If that is the case, the prospect of a peaceful settlement of China's relations with the rest of the world are rather better. General Shieh has got the upper hand in the fight for control of the Canton faction.

Undoubtedly Thomas Edison has glorified his name in the annals of history, but the man who was taken in France recently the most popular Frenchman was found to be not Napoleon, but Louis Pasteur.

So Darwin and Jenner have done more to recall the name of Pasteur than any man, and Pasteur himself, who has given the name of Germanism which is found in that harnesses rivalry for achievement by the members of the various nations.

There is no half here in this comparison. The man who has done more to spread the name of Pasteur has done more to spread the name of Pasteur.

In order to elevate our country and to magnify it, we must do more to make it known. In our own country it is better to do more to make it known.

The true patriotism consists in making our country stronger and better and not necessarily belittling another country.

THE FLOWER SHOW

Every city loves a slogan. Some like to be called the city of wheat elevators, some like to be known as the city of iron founders. Others like to be known as the city of lumbermen, and so on. Edmonton is received the right to be known as the city of flowers.

Few, if any, cities on the North American continent could sponsor such a flower show, as the one which is to be held in Edmonton this year. That is right. This is the first show that has ever been sponsored by the Edmonton Horticultural Society.

It is a little thing to say that there are conversant with exhibitions of this nature, desire. It is without doubt the best exhibition that has ever been made of its kind in Canada, and it is to be hoped that it will be a success.

The true patriotism consists in making our country stronger and better and not necessarily belittling another country.

them would mean the inevitable destruction of both. Yet a conference was allowed to assemble at Geneva at which naval experts sat down to draft a schedule of naval limitations which could have no possible meaning or object except on the assumption that all naval powers were in agreement with each other.

It is high time, so far as these two countries are concerned, to relegate the naval experts to the background and to compel recognition of the fact that these two nations do not intend to fight each other and do not intend to build fleets with any such thought in mind.

Beneath the Stars

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Beneath the stars at night when all was clear. We sat and talked and waited for the sight of men. What was it set them dreaming, thinking here? Let them to hold their backs upon the raven men's den; then hear beauty's charm and sing. Never order here the song of war and dread. Discover God's secret in the stars above.

"They must have sat within themselves," one said, "and seen the stars and the fire drives. They must have heard God whispering overhead. And all agreed that man began to rise. When first he seemed the splendor of the skies."

Patriotism

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A patriotic deed is one which reflects honor and glory upon one's country.

We see in General Grant, the Duke of Wellington and Napoleon as patriots because they led armies to victory.

The exploits of Colonel Lindbergh, together with those of Chamberlain and Hitler, are not because the glory was not often by any means incurred by other countries. This is the right way to look at it.

It is the right way to look at it because it is one which exists one's native country and at the same time does not awaken animosity in other countries.

If that is the case, the proper of a peaceful settlement of China's relations with the rest of the world are rather better. General Shieh has got the upper hand in the fight for control of the Canton faction.

Undoubtedly Thomas Edison has glorified his name in the annals of history, but the man who was taken in France recently the most popular Frenchman was found to be not Napoleon, but Louis Pasteur.

ABANDON HOPE LOST CLIMBERS WILL BE FOUND

Suicides by Hanging

Exclusive to the Bulletin
JASPER, Aug. 17.—Hope that F. H. Stark of Victoria, B.C., and his wife, Anna, who have been missing since Aug. 1, will be found alive has faded away. The efforts of the search parties who have been searching the mountains of the lost climbers were this morning followed to the eastern base of the mountain.

There is a great chance that the two climbers might have reached the base of the mountain in the case the bodies will probably never be found. It will probably be several days before the search party returns.

The two climbers pointed to the fact that it was their intention to return to the camp as soon as food was available for a quick meal.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 17.—Charles Leopold, a steamship engineer on the steamer Pargoson, left the deck of the vessel into the waters of Burrard Inlet yesterday and was drowned.

WHY WEAR READY MADE?

An Asset or a Liability

Some young men climb to success while others, equally talented, drift along only to become lost in the crowd. The main difference is in their discernment of the things that are worthwhile. —The one stresses individuality—makes his personal asset, while the other is satisfied to be just a ready-made man. LACOMBE, Alta., Aug. 17.—After failing from ill health, Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Riley, aged 60, son of Frank Riley, a farmer of Lacombe, Alberta, died in a home in his father's barn. Riley had been confined to the sacrament of baptism. Rev. J. C. McNeilly, pastor of United Church, officiated.

"There's a whole evening left before anything is likely to happen."

Vee-Vee's Evening

VERA CRANDALL, Vee-Vee, agrees to let JERRY MACK, manager of the new Bloom Cosmetics, transact her into the summer hotel. She agrees only after Jerry promises to let her go home again.

The man who ignores her has plenty of work in the company's advertising. Transforming a simple sketch into a picture, Jerry finds in his desk an open question at Lake Minnetonka and the name of the hotel.

At the summer hotel, Schuyler and other guests mistake her for the vaudeville star. Jerry, however, after a diversity in art, has disappeared. Vee-Vee attempts to call him, but he is not to be found.

She is particularly attentive to Vera, much to the jealousy of NAN.

It is engaged for her number. Vera is engaged for her number.

She is passing through the lobby when she sees Jerry. He is smiling, but with despair over the fact that his five years was about to be whisked away from him just when he had come to stay.

"Don't worry, dear," she said in a voice that sounded like an endorsement for the first time.

Thurston, the hotel manager, comes to her room and asks her to go with him.

Again she says no, but reluctantly.

He is determined to make the most of his opportunity to get a valuable exposure of her talents.

CHAPTER XXIV

As the day went on, Vee-Vee began to wonder almost hysterically.

Thurston, the hotel manager of Lake Minnetonka, had entreated the girl from being alone with Schuyler.

For the two found their friends had both made mistakes.

Their golf became a foursome, knowing exactly what it happened.

There was no opportunity for more than a few hours of privacy, but they played down the green, a fact which made Schuyler turnchildishly sulky.

They lunched at the little private room in the crowded hotel dining room. After the meal, Vee-Vee tried to distract him, but when he tried to start the conversation, he found that it was unusually dead.

"It's a pity," he told Vee-Vee, "in saying so much, you are interfering me. Thurston, that one who has been engaged to me, I suppose, is my commission. I suppose he thinks I'm going to try to abduct you and take you to the big city of Duluth. The high and mighty Crandalls."

Vee-Vee laughed with pretended innocence. "I don't know what Schuyler was right," Thurston said, "but I have a hunch that Schuyler was right."

She was not taking any chances on her safety, however, and when she got home, she was overwhelmed by the arrival of a telegram from her mother.

She was a caricature of her daughter's mother, Mrs. Fodick, with her little pig-like face, Nan's aquiline nose, her hair in a bun, and her mouth turned down.

"Oh, damn," Schuyler said in deep disgust, as he whirled his last cigarette into the air. "I can't stand to see you alone if I have to come in to the house. The detective would follow me there."

Thurston would not let him add, with a vicious stab of his tongue, "I'm not afraid."

There still the evening left, when, before anything is likely to happen, Vee-Vee crossed toward the hotel after their comic dinner.

"Schuyler laid a hand on my arm and declared that he was about to invent the world."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

"I guess you know just that Mr. Schuyler B. Smith," Mrs. Fodick swept on triumphantly, using the name with which she had had a glimpse when Schuyler had dropped in to see her.

"I guess he likes that makes a fortune-hunter that makes a fortune-hunter."

"Of course I know nothing of the sort," Vee-Vee said, "but you just open up discussing Mr. Smith's affairs with me."
